be The lockout among the tinners was declared yesterday morning. The contractors stated that in view of the fact that the question of unions and their dictation to employers was being put to a test in other circles, they would force the matter to an issue also. They declare that they, too, have had enough of the walking delegate and his orders.

After the Walking Delegate. "We do not mind dealing with sepa-rate unions," said one of the contract-ors, "but when it comes to dealing with a federation that will call out all workmen because one man in some small union has a grievance, we balk.
